The Feline Flâneur by Various

It does seem like there are a number of collaboration books going on this time around, but I think that is great. Sometimes you don't have enough work to show on your own, or cannot think of a project. This lovely book is just that, a project. About cats.

There are some familiar names in this one. Simon Becker, Zeno Felkl and Simon Robinson among many others. This book looks to be a massive scale group project on urban cats, and it is something awesome for that.

It is a simple concept, but all of the images have been really well put together and seem to flow really well together. There is a little bit of everything in this one and you can really see the different approaches to the project.

This actually came with a whole bunch of books at the same time, but I am trying to space them out a bit. You can read more about this and other books at fistfulofbooks.com
